deided, on the ground of their creating a nuisance. It was pointed out that there was some difficulty in ascertaining if they were bona-fide members of the association. It was finally resolved that the secretary write them all upon the subject of their membership, and that the members of the association be asked to be in possession of their membership. A further discussion arose as to the present unsatisfactory action, or rather inaction, of the Government; and it was decided that the chairman and another member of the association should take steps this morning to arrange for a deputaion to call upon the Secretary of the Home Office, and to request that they be granted at once, or that some protection be afforded against the hardships arising from the present police prosecutions. The meeting then adjourned.

A MEETING of old pupils and friends of the late Mr. C. Chiblett, public teacher of singing, was held on Tuesday evening, in the Protestant Hall, to take into consideration what steps should be taken to erect a memorial over his grave. Mr. Chiblett died on the 10th inst. of the cholera, and the chairman, after hearing the explanations given by Mr. McCormack as to the origin of the movement, it was decided, on the motion of Mr. Kingsbury, that subscription cards should be issued to aid of funds for the proposed memorial. It was also decided that a concert should be given, the proceeds to be devoted to the same object, and a strong committee was appointed. Ladies and gentlemen were willing to take subscription cards, or to give their assistance at the proposed concert, will receive particular attention on application to the committee at Protestant Hall, Castlereagh-street.

THE Metropolitan Quarter Sessions were resumed at Darlinghurst yesterday. The bench was occupied by Mr. District Court Judge Forbes, and Mr. Taitton presiding for the Crown. Alice Hill, charged with stealing from the person, was found guilty of the offence, charged with burglary and larceny, were found not guilty, and were discharged; and Andrew Johnson, charged with assault, was released upon his own recognizance to appear again if required to do so. Ettie Clarke, who pleaded guilty to forging a money order, was sentenced to six months; and Elsie Buckley Wolff, who pleaded guilty of larceny, was sentenced to six months. The property of the bankrupts, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. John Williamson, found guilty of larceny, was sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment. In the case of Henry Eicholtz, a civil engineer, charged with stealing from the person, the jury after an hour's deliberation stated that they were not likely to agree to a verdict, and they were thereupon locked up for the night.

A COLLISION, happily unattended with personal damage, took place yesterday morning at the corner of Liverpool and Elizabeth streets. A three-horse dray laden with stones, and driven by Joseph Higg, in the employ of Mr. George Goff, of 398, Oxford-street, was endeavouring to get out of the way of tram motor No. 30, when the latter, in endeavouring to get out of the way of the dray, ran into the side of the dray, and so nearly clearing the line. The wheel was of course smashed, and the stones sent in all directions. Neither the horse nor the driver were injured to be in any way hurt.

ON Tuesday night the residence of Mr. D'Omsy Ogden, at Marriekville, was broken into, and property to a considerable extent stolen. It appears that about that night, as Mr. and Mrs. Ogden were sitting in the parlour, a ladylike-looking person, who seemed to leave the house by the gate, and thence into the paddock adjacent, where all trace of her was lost. Upon examination it was found that an entrance had been effected by the bedroom window. Notes and gold to the extent of about £80 is reported missing, also some supplies of much value. Mr. Ogden at once put the police on the track of the thief.

TWO charges of maliciously throwing down a fence at Mosman Bay, brought against Mr. C. E. Jeannette, was finally disposed of at the St. Leonards Police Court yesterday by Mr. Marsh, S.M., who considered that there was an absence of "malice," and therefore dismissed the information. The hearing of another charge of a similar nature was adjourned for a week.

A MAN named John Lawton sustained a fracture of the tibia while lifting timber out of a breach at Frodo's yesterday morning. He was admitted to the Parramatta Hospital.

LAST evening the police at the Central Station received information of a case of suicide at 41, Day street, off Eskine-street. The facts of the case, as far as can be ascertained, are as follows:—The victim is a widow, 50 years of age, by name Macpherson, who has resided with her son, as the above address, for some last night. She was found lying on the floor of her bedroom with her windings almost severed, and a knife covered with blood close to her hand. No one had seen her or spoken to her during the evening, the last person who saw her alive being Mrs. Ashby, landlady of the 3 Down. In her last will, she bequeathed the sum of £200 to her son, who was the only child of the deceased, at 20 years of age. The cause of the suicide is not known. It is stated, also, that deceased had been drinking for some time past. The people who discovered the body and communicated with the police are two women named Emma Hillyard and Mary Donnelly, residing at 61, Lower Fort-street. When found, deceased was only partly clad. Her son, who was the only child of the deceased, and the matter has been reported to the Coroner, and it is probable that an inquest will be held to-day.

SOON after midnight of Tuesday two women, Bridget Griffin (30) and Maud Fox (24), were taken to the hospital by Police-constable Wilkinson. Griffin was suffering from a pistol shot in the side, and Fox from a pistol shot wound in the palm of her hand. From the women's statements it appeared that they had just returned from a house in Wexford-street, where a dispute had arisen between the two women and the supposed name is Williamson, and the landlady of the house, one Bridget Griffin. The altercation resulted in Williamson taking a revolver out of a pocket and shooting at her, whereupon Maud Fox interposed and received the wound in her hand. Wilkinson sprang against Griffin, being this time engaged in a struggle with her, and she fell to the ground. She was then captured by ex-Constable Hartford, and conveyed to the Christchurch police station by Police-constable West. Neither of the injuries to the women are serious, as both of them left the hospital of their own accord a few hours after admission.

ON Tuesday, the Parramatta District Coroner (Mr. J. E. Bowen) held an inquest at the residence of Mr. Edward Gater, Hemyon, on the body of a labourer named John J. Gater, of 21, Wexford-street, who died about 60 years. The deceased went to his home at 11 p.m. on Monday, deceased proceeded to a deep hole in No. 28 extent on the Homebush-Warrah railway line with the object of getting a bucket of water, when he fell into the water and was drowned. His body was recovered twenty minutes after the occurrence, and the Coroner endeavoured to restore animation, but they proved unavailing. The jury returned a verdict of accidentally drowned.

YESTERDAY morning Thomas Baughan, steward of the steamship Shannon, was received at the hospital suffering from the effects of partial poisoning by opium. He was found in a prostrate condition on board ship, and in his cabin a letter was found, addressed to his wife, in which he stated that he was about to die by his own hand, and that he was suffering from opium. He was taken to the hospital, and after being employed, and up to a late hour last evening Baughan was progressing very favourably towards recovery.

WITH regard to certain "discommodore" New Zealanders, the Wellington correspondent of the New Zealand Herald writes on September 27.—"The Opposition are considerably annoyed at that portion of Sir Julius Vogel's speech on Friday night in which he accused Major Atkinson with having allowed debentures to be issued for £30,000 to be allowed 'discommodore,' and it is probable that the Government will be obliged to drop without something further to be said on the subject. The facts, I am informed, are simply these:—The debentures in question were held by the Public Trustee, and on their becoming due in October last the usual notification that they were payable was sent to the Treasury. Instead of paying them Major Atkinson made arrangements to have the Public Trustee to allow them to stand over, provided they pay per cent interest for the money. By some extraordinary oversight of the Treasury officials, the interest when the first instalment became due and was paid was not deducted to unauthorized expenditure as it ought to have been, and strange to say the oversight was not detected until the 15th inst. When Sir Julius Vogel came to office he became aware of the error, and immediately ordered and also of the fact that about £200,000 had been due and have to be provided for during the current year. In regard to the £20,000, he said, 'I am not was an oversight, and the amount of interest paid must be charged to unauthorized expenditure at once. The Public Trustee refused to sanction, and the Auditor-General said that he must call upon the Public Trustee to refund interest, payment not being according to law. He did demand its repayment accordingly, and the Public Trustee not only refused to comply with the demand, but after holding a meeting of the board insisted on the immediate payment of the £20,000. The amount was repaid by the Colonial Treasurer, but I am informed that the debtors still remain unsatisfied in the chest of the Public Trustee office. The Opposition declare that the only breach of faith has been on the part of the present Treasurer in breaking the agreement which his predecessors made with the Public Trustee, and they assert that the refusal to pay the amount to unauthorized expenditure, was simply the result of a desire, if possible, to use the transaction to the damage of a political rival.

HEAVY FLOODS occurred in the Murrumbidgee, on the 23rd September. The Lachlan correspondent of the Advertiser reports that the water was higher than on any previous flood for twelve years past. Mr. J. Benson's and the Murrumbidgee paddocks were submerged to a large extent. Several houses and the old brewery in Waggonville were flooded with several inches of water on the floor. From the wharf upwards the houses and stores were surrounded for some distance, and between the wharf and Lachlan Bridge a torrent of water surrounded the old police-station, which had over a foot of water in it. The water was very close to the floor of the bridge, and the debris was with difficulty got under the large timber. At the Shearwood railway bridge large quantities of logs, &c., had accumulated, but have been since removed by the railway men. The road across Waggonville was covered for half a mile, over a deep in one part.

MR. SAMUEL TOMKINS, M.L.A., writes to the Sydney Australian Register:—"If reliance is to be placed on the London telegrams, it would appear that our Agent-General has been instructed by our Government to act with other Agents-General in pressing upon the East of Derby the necessity of the adoption of a British protectorate over islands in the Pacific Ocean not already claimed by foreign Powers. If, I say, this is true, our Premier, the Hon. John Colton, must have been influenced by the Victorian Premier, the Hon. James Service, who with his Agent-General, Mr. R. Murray Smith, is leaving the East of Derby to-day. For I observe that even during the London holidays Mr. Smith kept on what is called presence, through the Times, on the Colonial Office. The moment Sir Arthur Blyth returned from his trip, he received instructions to be at Mr. Murray Smith's disposal. Considering that only recently Mr. Colton declined to act as a member of the House having communicated with our Agent-General on the subject, I submit that no step should have been taken in the matter without direct authority from Parliament. The dignified rebuke administered to Mr. Service by the New South Wales Premier, Mr. Alex. Stuart, commands my admiration, and I should have been glad to see Mr. Colton adopt a similar line. Commenting on the above the Register remarks:—"We do not at all approve of the idea of Great Britain setting off to arms all the unappropriated islands in the South Sea, or even giving notice to the world that she has vested rights in them, and during the world to question her control."

The Forbes Times says:—"It is to be feared that the line will not be the only bad-paying one in the colony. The line from Wollawong to Mudgee was most costly in construction, and when all the enthusiasm respecting it has died away the very natural question will be asked:—Will it pay? In a distance of nearly 80 miles there are but two stations, and the country is mostly rugged and desolate. A line to Mudgee and no further would certainly be a mistake, and here again the Government will find themselves upon the horns of a dilemma. Countenance has been promised a railway, and certainly the Castle-river district ought to have one. Yet, whilst the further north, the more to be included in the railway proposals, and from what Mr. Dible said the other day it would appear that the line is not to be extended. Dible is working tooth and nail for a line from there to Omeo, and urges that whilst the Government should reach that way, whilst equal efforts are being made to connect Wollawong and Mudgee, and thus bring that portion of the north-western traffic down to Newcastle. If the line goes from Mudgee to Omeo, there will be three north-western lines running almost parallel with each other, and yet by that means alone the Mudgee line will be a success."

As English papers say:—The Hon. J. H. Colton, M.L.A., arrived at Sydney on the 23rd inst. There was great rejoicing both at the Hall and in the village, and many people were rung on the church bells to give the young couple a hearty welcome to the ancestral home.

The Paris correspondent of the Times says the Edinburgh edition of the Times has a long article in which it discloses a recent article of the Colony which made an almost pitiful appeal to France to join hands with Germany. Every possible advantage, material and moral, and the glory that would accrue to France if she succeeded in planting her foot on the neck of England, from the fact that the schoolboy of the age of England and the cheerful friendliness towards France, however, have produced only amusement among the French readers, and serve to recall the German saying, "Er schreit den Back und meint den Keil." The object of isolating France by cutting her from her old friend is so manifest that the Colony has produced only a feeling of distrust of the motives provoking its vehemence. The Liberty remarks that France can be on very good terms with Germany without falling out with England, and to the cause of freedom, whether political or commercial. The Edinburgh, however, would have the relations between the two Western nations on a slender footing.

The British Educational Biscuits for 1883-84 (says a London paper) throw some light upon the educational question of overpressure. It is remarkable that the alleged overpressure is but little regarded in England, only two out of four reports in the Scotch Biscuits mention the subject. On the other hand, no fewer than fifteen out of twenty English inspectors directly or indirectly discuss it as considerable length. With scarcely an exception, these fifteen reports either deny absolutely the existence of overpressure or show that the reports of its existence are based upon a misunderstanding of the requirements of the code are excessive where attendance is regular and teaching satisfactory; on the contrary, there is no evidence that the code is framed for the average, if not for the dull scholar—certainly not as a measure of the capabilities of the brightest and most talented. In these reports the overpressure is admitted to exist, the main cause of the evil are easily set forth. The system of "keeping in" is alluded to by several inspectors as a very fruitful cause, and one that is said to be growing more and more prevalent, especially on the one of inspection. Several reports focus the cause upon the teachers, some of whom are said to be working too heavily, as to faulty methods, or make attempts to overtake too many subjects. Another cause is irregularity of attendance.

Our readers in Australia (says the European Mail) will doubtless be amused—they are certainly not likely to be edified—by the correspondence which is now appearing in the Times and other London papers on the subject of the "labour question" in the Pacific. It must be remembered that this is the "big gooseberry season," and that when once a letter is inserted on a given subject there are always plenty of people, with ample time at their disposal, ready to contribute their quota and keep the "pot boiling." It cannot be said with the dramatically apparent statements which have been made concerning the "Native Question in Western Australia," and "Slavery in Fiji," that the day-at-home Englishman has learnt much from the controversy, or rather controversies, which continue to be carried on with unremitting energy, and so far as the welfare of Australia is concerned, it would be far better were they at once to cease.

The number of week-day visitors at the Art Gallery for September was 10,295, a daily average for 26 days of 396; the number of Sunday visitors was 5,070, an average for four Sundays of 1,267 per Sunday. Total attendance for month, 17,363.

A MEETING of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers is to be held to-morrow night, under the presidency of Mr. H. Parker, when the ceremony of unfurling a new banner is to be performed by Mr. G. M. M. A.

BRISBANE, WEDNESDAY.
In the Legislative Council this afternoon, in answer to a question, the Postmaster-General stated the amount of public money which was held by the Queensland National Bank on the 30th of June was £2,555,937, of which £1,777,000 was held in London, and the balance in Brisbane. The Postmaster-General was read a third time and passed. The consideration of the Bill was resumed, and a number of amendments were made in it. The Bill was read a second time.

In the Legislative Assembly, the consideration of the Land Bill in committee was resumed. On 10th June, during the discussion on the powers of the Land Board, an amendment was made on the motion of Mr. Dutton, making it clear that every inquiry and appeal shall be heard, and the decision pronounced, in open court; and also empowering the board to make an order regarding costs. A long discussion took place on 10th June, having reference to the mode of assessing rent and compensation, and eventually the clause was passed unamended, as was also clause 15. Mr. Dutton then moved a new clause providing for the final rehearing by the board, and stating that this provision would meet some cases which might have been a hasty decision or where fresh evidence should be obtained. Mr. Donaldson moved an amendment that the final decision on the Minister of Lands, which was against the principle of the Bill. A long discussion ensued, and the amendment was eventually rejected. The debate is still proceeding.

PARLIAMENT OF VICTORIA.

(BY TELEGRAPH.)

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

MELBOURNE, WEDNESDAY.
In the Legislative Council, this afternoon, further evidence was taken in connection with the Amalgamation of the Legal Professions Bill.

In the Legislative Assembly, the Land Bill was resumed, and an amendment was carried by 29 votes to 28, allowing married women to select agricultural allotments. The amendment was carried in connection with the correspondence that has taken place between the Premier of New South Wales and Victoria. Mr. Pearson said he saw in a letter which Mr. Stuart had addressed to Mr. Service that Mr. Stuart says, "I know of no single fact which could justify the belief that the Imperial Government ever seriously contemplated the annexation of, or the exercise of any general protectorate over, the unappropriated islands of the Pacific. There were no reasons for coming to the conclusion that the Imperial Government was in any way likely to get annexation." Mr. Pearson presumed that the statement was dictated by some knowledge of what was going on in London, and by some information that the Home Government was not favourable to the annexation of the islands. He said that the statement in the papers of to-day that Prince Bismarck was organizing a league of the different European Governments to prevent the further incorporation of unappropriated territory with the British possessions. What he wanted to ask the Premier was, if he could explain Mr. Stuart's statement, what reason he had for thinking in July that the Home Government would annex the islands, and if he could tell in a general way whether there was any reason to fear that the prospect of annexation had been given up or received a serious check. Mr. Service said that portion of Mr. Stuart's letter which the hon. member referred to did not escape my attention, in fact struck me as being probably the most extraordinary statement in it. I had written a letter to Mr. Stuart, reviewing every statement in the letter, and bringing out quotations from the various despatches and papers which have been given to this Parliament, and to the Parliament of New South Wales, to show that in this respect, as in others, he was entirely wrong, but that I understood at all how Mr. Stuart's statement could be made in the letter, and I brought out quotations from the various despatches and papers which have been given to this Parliament, and to the Parliament of New South Wales, to show that in this respect, as in others, he was entirely wrong,
